SIXTY DAYS FOR TAKING BUTTER

Bridle and Rein Now in Police Court Awaiting Identification—Other Cases.

There were only two jail cases before Justice John yesterday morning, the few others being small matters that could be settled either by fine or reprimand.

Richard James, colored, went down for sixty days on the charge of taking a tub of butter from J. A. Heiser, valued at $4.45.

A. F. Farrell was found with a blind bridle and rein in his possession, for which he could give no account. He was placed under bonds for thirty days, and the case is now at Police Court, where it may be recovered by the owner upon identification.

John Shen, alias Kid, is being held as a suspicious character. He will tell about it on the 11th.

Watson Loomis is charged with beating his boarder amounting to $13, but it was shown that the landlady agreed to let him run an account, and he was dismissed.

Elizabeth Vincent, colored, was charged with beating her husband, William, but it was shown that she was discharged.

Certitude Brown, colored, was dismissed of the charge of trespassing and abusing Marshall Smith.

Thomas Swann was assessed $2 for failing to place a light on street obstruction, and Thomas Swann was charged with letting two cows run at large. Several drunks were let off.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Entertain. Mr. W. L. Walker, of New York, one of the most prominent and popular directors of the American Tobacco Company, and family, have been at the Jefferson Hotel several days, being here on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Della Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Walker, to Mr. Henry M. Magee.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker entertained a few of their friends at the wedding. Mrs. Walker gave a luncheon at the Jefferson. Mrs. Walker were on this occasion a very

I use two pounds of Grape-Nuts each week and drink Postum Food Coffee twice a day, and expect to live as long as I live, for it has been a Godsend to me and mine."

UNION OF THE TRADES

Richmond Tobacconists Call on Others in the State.

TO EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS

Resolutions Adopted Appointing Committee to Consult With All Virginia Tobacco Markets—Ad-dresses Made.

As forecast a day or two ago, the Richmond Tobacco Trade, at a largely attended meeting, held yesterday, took steps looking to a co-operative movement on the part of all the tobacco markets in the State toward producing at the St. Louis Exposition a great exhibit of Virginia tobacco. Plans were discussed and provision was made for a committee, which will at once get into communication with tobacco men throughout the State.

ADDRESSSES MADE. Among those present at the meeting were Commissioner of Agriculture Kolmer, chairman of the Virginia Tobacco Exposition, and the Hon. George E. Murrell, superintendent and secretary of the commission. Both of these gentlemen made addresses.

Mr. Murrell spoke at length of the advantages of the Exposition and of the special inducements held out to tobacco men. As an indication of the scope of the great fair, he said that Chicago had appropriated $18,000,000, Paris $8,000,000, and St. Louis $9,000,000. A large central space in the Palace of Agriculture has been set apart for tobacco, and particular emphasis will be placed upon this product. The United States government, through its Commissioner of Agriculture, has indicated an eagerness to see tobacco well represented, and wants Virginia tobacco particularly. The scheme is to show the evolution of the weed from the natural leaf to the manufactured product. Much of the tobacco machinery is the product of Virginia brains, and hence Virginia machinery must be well represented.

An interesting fact stated by Mr. Murrell was that the $50,000 appropriated would be used entirely to exhibit the resources of the State. Not one dollar of it will be wasted on sentimentalities.

UPON MOTION OF Mr. W. W. Morton there was unanimously adopted by the trade a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three to represent the whole question and confer with other tobacco traders in the State.

The proposition is to have a great general exhibit for the State at large, subdivided into sections representing each tobacco market, the markets to be represented by individual firms. The cooperating traders will select a capable man and request the Virginia Commissioner to appoint him to look after the tobacco interests.

Mr. Kolmer indicated yesterday that the request, under certain conditions, would be granted, if made.

The committee provided for in the motion of Mr. Morton has not yet been appointed, but it will be named very shortly. It will at once get in touch with Danville, Lynchburg, Petersburg, South Boston, and the other markets.

Major Archer, commander of Halifax county, was present at the meeting yesterday, and said that he could speak for South Boston.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 3.—Professor C. K. Francis, junior professor of chemistry at the Georgia School of Technology, was elected to the chair of chemistry and biology at Converse College at a meeting of the Board of Trustees held here.

Professor Francis is a graduate of Brown University, and for some time an instructor in the same institution, taking also post-graduate courses in European laboratories.

Professor Francis was formerly from Richmond, and received part of his education in the public schools here and in Richmond College.

STILL WORKING ON CORPORATIONS

Committees May Recommend Modification of Merger Clause.

The Senate Committees for Courts of Justice and Roads and Internal Navigation held another long session yesterday afternoon, and heard suggestions from Judge Bernard T. Crump and other members of the Corporation Commission as to the companion bills designed to put this new department of the government into operation.

The bill was done by Judge Crump, the chairman of the commission.

While the bills are yet far from complete and what few of the amendments suggested have been finally adopted, the committee is likely to be some modification of the merger clause along the line of preventing the merging of parallel and competing lines of railroads.

The committee did not hold a night session, and will not meet again until Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, but even then it is not anticipated that the work will be in shape to report to the Senate.

It is said now that there will not be nearly so many changes as was at first anticipated, and that the committee have given so much consideration to the measures.

Social and Personal

The last of three lectures given by Dr. S. C. Mitchell on the French Revolution and under the auspices of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church was presented last evening at the Women's Club to a fine and sympathetic audience.

The Doctor's theme was "Nationalism in the Nineteenth Century." The following is a brief outline of a very strong and masterly handling of the subject:

"In the course of the French Revolution, the subject of the third lecture was Nationalism. To the exponent of nationalism in the nineteenth century, the key to Napoleon's success is to be found in a distinction made by the French revolutionists, declaring that all peoples were enemies, and hence that the French Republic felt its mission to be to wage war for all nations against all kings."

"In fact, three distinct elements of power are seen in Napoleon's early campaigns. First, his own genius; second, the crusading ardor with which the revolution had struck the nerves of the French soldiers; and lastly, but by no means least, the response of the people to the call of the revolution."

"The sense of nationalism is today the strength of England, France, Germany and Italy, and its absence is the weakness of Austria. Strangely enough, this sense of nationalism was fully voiced by Patrick Henry in the First Continental Congress in 1774, when he said: 'The distinctions between the colonies and the mother country are no more. I am not a Virginian, but an American.'"

The advent to power of Jefferson in 1801 intensified this national consciousness by basing the government on the popular initiative. In the words of the sentiment of nationalism lies the secret of the strength of the American Republic and of the force of its appeal abroad; for nationalism is the Gulf-current of present-day history."

The Dixie Concert.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments given in connection with the forthcoming Confederate Bazaar was the "Dixie Concert," which took place in the parish hall at Barton Heights last Friday evening, for the benefit of the Solid South table.

The ladies were fortunate in securing some of Richmond's best talent. Misses Diggs and Harrison, and Messrs. Gordon and Lohman delighted every one with their exquisite rendering of the dear old songs of long ago. And Mrs. Yeager's charming rendition of "Sweet Home" elicited rounds of applause from young and old.

Mr. Shepherd, Webb, with his limpid accompaniments, and Professor Frank Cosby's piano selections were all greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

Quite a nice little sum was added to the funds of the Solid South.

Four Hundred Mules.

Mrs. Firmin Desjardes, of Missouri, has contributed four hundred mules for the Missouri table at the Confederate Bazaar, to open April 10th, for the purpose of raising funds to complete the Davis Monument and for the Confederate Museum.

The mules are perfect miniatures in metal, attached to a long stick pin, to be worn by ladies or gentlemen, and are in four colors—black, brown, dun or gray, in copy of the most famous mules issued by the famous Missouri mule at Richmond.

From the sale of the mules it is believed that a handsome fund for the table will be realized.

Mrs. J. C. Hagan, the chairman of the Missouri table, has received from Mrs. Leroy B. Valliant, of St. Louis, a check for $25.00, which she has contributed to the Missouri table fund.

From the sale of that State. Given below are the names of contributors. The first fifty dollars was collected by Mrs. Valliant from Major James Bannerman, Mr. Otey Sorrells, Major Bernheimer, Mr. Murray Carleton, Mr. Richard Berge, Mr. E. B. Brooks and Mr. A. J. Rust.

Then come the following amounts:

By Mrs. W. L. Walker $5.00
By Mrs. Phil. Chew 5.00
By Mrs. D. W. Marmaduke 4.00
By Mrs. Celeste Pim, from Mr. Richard Sorrells 25.00

From the North American Investment Company 2.00
From the Confederate Memorial Bazaar 3.00

These in the aggregate complete the tale of the hundred dollars.

The Stonewall Jackson Chapter of Missouri have forwarded Mrs. Hagan a box containing the chapter banner, with standard and mounting; Kaiserin cups, a convention hall teaspoon, and many other beautiful articles.

The Missouri committee is full of energy and enthusiasm. The ladies at the head of it, Mrs. John C. Hagan, Mrs. R. Blankenship, Miss Eleanor Hagan, and others are working bravely for their table, and with the encouraging sympathy and support which they have received from Missouri, it seems altogether certain that it will sustain its reputation as a "banner State" at the Bazaar.

Restaurant Committee.

The ladies of the Restaurant Committee of the Confederate Bazaar, which opens on April 10th, realizing the many demands on the housekeepers and merchants of Richmond during the Confederate Fair, have just ended, desiring, if possible, to discount the house-to-house canvass and ask all who are willing to contribute articles which can be used in the restaurant to send a postal within the coming week to the secretary of the Restaurant Committee, Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick, of No. 1017 Park Avenue, specifying what they will send and the day upon which it will be sent.

The ladies are working bravely for their table, and with the encouraging sympathy and support which they have received from Missouri, it seems altogether certain that it will sustain its reputation as a "banner State" at the Bazaar.

The officers of the Restaurant Committee are as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. W. M. Wade; first alternate, Mrs. Mary Conrad Gibson; second alternate, Mrs. James H. Capner; secretary, Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Tyler.

Wedding Hastened by Illness.

A few days ago invitations were issued to the wedding of Miss Alice Winona McClung and Mr. George Armstrong Gibson, of this city, at Meadow View, Va., the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McClung.

Thursday an apparently slight illness with which Mrs. M. S. Gibson, mother of Mr. Gibson, had been suffering, suddenly developed alarming symptoms. Yesterday her condition was critical, and she was told that probably her end was near. She has been intensely interested in her son's approaching marriage and earnestly devoted to her prospective daughter-in-law. She expressed deep sorrow that she was about to die without seeing them married. In deference to her evident wishes, a license was secured and the wedding ceremony was performed at her bedside by the Rev. W. B. Williams, her brother. Her uncle, of the groom, at half-past 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Of course, none but the nearest relatives were present.

Women's Meetings.

The Executive Committee will meet at 12 o'clock on Monday at Mrs. Taylor Elyson's. Any chairman of a table who wishes to have a difficulty adjusted is asked to lay it before the committee.

The South Carolina Committee will meet next Wednesday in Lee Camp Hall at 11 A. M. After this week contributions to the table can be sent to the Misses McIntire, No. 507 East Main Street.

It is imperative necessary that all who have kindly consented to assist in any way at the Florida table attend a meeting at No. 619 East Main Street, Wednesday, April 8th, at 4:30 P. M. At this time badges of admission will be furnished and final arrangements made for the management of the table. Any finding it impossible to attend this called meeting will be kind enough to notify Mrs. Cabell, the chairman, of their willingness to serve, as only those who respond in one of the two ways above stated will be regarded as being connected with the table.

The Entertainment Committee of the Missouri table will meet at the home of Miss Eleanor Tree Monday afternoon next at 4 o'clock.

The Missouri committee will meet the chairman, Mrs. Hagan, at No. 409 East Franklin Street, at 4 P. M. Tuesday.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Newton Jones have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edith Eliett Jones, to Mr. James Thomas Rutherford, of the wedding will take place Wednesday evening, April 23rd, at 8:30 o'clock, in Holy Trinity Church.

Invitations have been received in Richmond from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newman Davis, of
